Automated City Parking Buildings

The Central City Business Association has been working with the Council the past two years to change the way car parking facilities operate.

support the entertainment precincts and many businesses which operate later than the current 6.15pm closing time and bring us into line with other major New Zealand cities.

It's great to see the Council bringing the initiative to fruition as it will bring many benefits to the city. Some of the facilities will operate 24/7 with automatic pay stations which will

Many shopping experiences begin and end with car parking so operating parking facilities more conveniently and efficiently is a top priority. The Council will stagger the introduction of the new pay station system over two years.

TRELISE COOPER

Trelise Cooper's first South Island flagship store has opened on High Street.

Co-designed by Trelise and Derek Lockwood, worldwide director of design for Saatchi & Saatchi, it features wrought iron racking, traditional French furniture and luxurious fabrics from the Trelise Cooper Interiors collection.

"It is reminiscent of houses in France," says Trelise, pointing to the brocade curtained fitting rooms and low hanging chandeliers.

The store showcases Trelise Cooper, Cooper by Trelise, Trelise Cooper Kids and Trelise's first signature fragrance 'Trelise'.

Trelise and Derek have worked together before creating these beautiful boutiques, notably the magical Trelise Cooper Kids shop in Auckland.

This is a wonderful addition and asset to our city fashion and hope you take some time to check it out.

New Christchurch Hotel towers above the city

The first guest at The Marque Hotel Christchurch was treated to a traditional Maori welcome when they arrived on Thursday afternoon.

A powhiri or Maori welcome ceremony and drinks welcomed the first guest and neighbours of the hotel to The Marque, which after months of preparation has opened.

Located in Cathedral Junction in the heart of the central business district, The Marque Hotel Christchurch occupies 15 floors of the tallest building in the South Island. It has been designed to provide a home-away-from home for business travellers and features 171 guest rooms and suites, as well as a contemporary and vibrant bar and restaurant.

Earth Hour Saturday 27 March 2010, 8:30PM

Millions of people around the World, will join together to switch off all their lights and non essential appliances for Earth Hour.

Earth Hour is a powerful symbol of the massive public support for continued action on climate change.

Earth Hour 2010 will be a major call to action for every individual, government and business to take responsibility and play a part in ensuring a sustainable future.

Check out our website for more information on what is happening here in Central City.
